

Happy Holidays!

This certificate entitles the bearer to five days of outstanding journalism instruction from some of the country's top advisers and professionals. Held at James Madison University from July 14-18, each camper will work with an instructor who will teach them all the basics of journalism. Campers will also get to choose from a wide variety of break-out sessions each day so they get the opportunity to explore all facets of journalism including photography, videography, writing, design, law and ethics, social media/digital journalism and so much more!
